DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to Amendment filed February 14, 2007. Claims 1-9 have been amended, claim 10 has been cancelled and claims 11-16 have been added as requested by the applicant.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 and 11-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanaka (US 5,550,657) in view of Hattori (JP 02-221829).

Regarding claims 1 and 11, Tanaka teaches an optical lens component comprising a central lens element (23) having an optical axis and located centrally of a circumjacent mounting portion (Fig. 3) having spaced parallel surfaces that extend perpendicularly to the optical axis (interfaces between 23 and 27 and 23 and 26), at least one of the spaced parallel surfaces being provided with a non-random light-scattering structure (26) for coupling out light entering the mounting portion (Fig. 3). Tanaka teaches the light absorbing means (22a) are provided adjacent at least one non-random light-scattering structure (Fig. 3; col. 7 lines 66-67). Tanaka lacks reference to the light absorbing means adjacent the non-random light-scattering structure. Hattori teaches the use of a light absorbing means adjacent the light scattering structure (abstract). The clad layer of Hattori provides both light absorption and light scattering. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the Tanaka invention include the light absorbing means adjacent the light scattering structure as taught by Hattori for the purpose of achieve even brightness for a projected image.

Regarding claims 2 and 12, Tanaka teaches the non-random light-scattering structure comprises indentations having parallel light-scattering surfaces with predetermined inclinations relative to the spaced parallel surfaces (Fig. 3).

Regarding claims 3 and 13, Tanaka teaches the indentations comprise at least one array of concentric circular indentations centered on the optical axis of the lens element (Fig. 25). Examiner interprets "concentric circular indentations" to be similar to those shown in Figs. 3-4 of the current application, since these are the only drawings that show views of the indentations. The indentations of Fig. 25 in Tanaka resemble the indentations shown in Figs. 3-4 of current application.

Regarding claims 4 and 14, Tanaka teaches the indentations in at least one array have triangularly shaped cross sections in a plane in which the optical axis of the lens is located (Fig. 3).

Regarding claims 5 and 15, Tanaka teaches all indentations have identically shaped cross sections in at least one array (Fig. 3).

Regarding claims 6 and 16, Tanaka teaches the triangular shape is asymmetrical relative to a local perpendicular (Fig. 25).

Regarding claim 7, Tanaka teaches the triangular shape comprises a right angled triangle having one leg lying in the plane of the respective spaces parallel surface of the mounting portion, the second leg being disposed on the side of the triangle facing the central axis (Fig. 25).

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanaka (US 5,550,657) in view of Hattori (JP 02-221829) as applied to claim 1 above further in view of Ohkawa (US 6,568,820).

Tanaka in combination with Hattori teaches the invention as claimed but lacks reference to molding. Ohkawa teaches the use of molding to create the an optical lens element (col. 6 lines 11-24). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the Tanaka in combination with Hattori invention created by molding as taught by Ohkawa for the purpose of precise and efficient reproduction of the light-scattering structure.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see Amendment, filed February 14, 2007, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1 under Tanaka have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration of the newly amended claim language, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Hattori. Applicant amended the claim to include the limitations of claim 10 along with additional limitations not previously claimed. The Tanaka reference failed to teach the spatial relationship between the light absorbing and light scattering layers and the Hattori reference was added to teach the newly claimed spatial relationship as stated in the rejection above.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
